PERSONALITY TEST

Employee Personality Profile

The EPP is a personality assessment that measures twelve traits. Scores for each trait are expressed as a percentile ranking, which reflects how a person scored on that trait relative to other test-takers. There are no “high” or “low” scores on the EPP; rather, people with certain traits tend to be a better fit for certain jobs. The EPP contains a series of job families that assess how good a fit a person’s personality is for a given position.

Score Explanation

Achievement Percentile

61

The Achievement (ACH) scale score reflects an individual's ability to follow through and complete tasks and to achieve specific goals. It is also related to the amount of interest that a person has in intellectual or conceptual work. The ACH score in the 61st percentile for this person indicates his or her achievement level may be average, but he or she will probably perform at a higher level in areas of high interest. This person's achievement in academic areas is likely to be low or moderate but he or she may achieve at a higher level in subjects of particular interest to him or her. At work or in a career, performance may be at an average level, but he or she will follow through in work or career areas of high interest.

Assertiveness Percentile

72

The Assertiveness (AST) scale score provides a gauge of an individual's directness in expressing himself or herself and in dealing with others. This person's AST score in the 72nd percentile indicates an individual who is moderately assertive. He or she may be assertive in some situations and not in others.

Competitiveness Percentile

61

The Competitiveness (CMP) score reflects the need to win, to perform better than others, or to surpass standards of achievement or performance. This individual's CMP score in the 61st percentile suggests that he or she is likely to value competitiveness, but only in areas that are particularly important to him or her.

Conscientiousness Percentile

32

The Conscientiousness (CON) scale is an indicator of a person's tendencies with respect to being deliberate, self-disciplined, organized and dependable. This person's score in the 32nd percentile suggests he or she tends to be laid-back, spontaneous, and less goal-oriented than those with higher scores on this scale. Individuals with scores in this range can also be disorganized and less likely to plan things out in advance.

Cooperativeness Percentile

78

The Cooperativeness (COP) score indicates a person's level of comfort in working closely with others and in taking the lead from others. A low COP score does not necessarily indicate uncooperativeness, but may indicate independence or aggressiveness in dealing with others. This COP score in the 78th percentile suggests that this person is likely to be cooperative. This person is likely to use an optimal level of aggressiveness when working with others.

Extroversion Percentile

85

The Extroversion (EXT) scale score indicates the degree to which a person sees himself or herself as socially outgoing. For this individual, the EXT score in the 85th percentile indicates a person who is likely to see himself or herself as extroverted. He or she is likely to be seen as more outgoing than most in business or social situations.

Managerial Percentile

78

The Managerial (MGT) score represents the degree to which a person's work strengths combine with his or her achievement, motivation, interpersonal strengths, and inner resources in a pattern similar to that of individuals in managerial and supervisory roles. This individual's MGT score in the 78th percentile suggests that his or her general characteristics are moderately similar to those of individuals in management or supervisory roles. This person is likely to be able to delegate authority and to have some ability to inspire and motivate others. This person may be seen as having moderately good overall management potential.

Motivation Percentile

57

The Motivation (MOT) scale score is intended to represent a person's inner drive, commitment to achieve, and the strength of inner emotions, needs, and values. This MOT score in the 57th percentile indicates a person whose motivation or inner drive is relatively high for certain personally important goals and not for others.

Openness Percentile

83

The Openness scale measures the extent to which an individual is imaginative and creative, as opposed to down to earth and conventional. The Openness score of 83rd percentile indicates that this individual is likely to be experimental, intellectually curious, and creative. They tend to be drawn to thinking about abstract ideas and the "big picture." Such individuals will often be open to change, and sometimes not as detail-oriented as those with lower Openness scores.

Patience Percentile

75

The Patience (PAT) scale indicates a person's ability to effectively cope with frustration encountered in completing tasks or in conflict-laden situations. This individual's PAT score in the 75th percentile suggests that he or she may be described as moderately patient. This person is likely to display an effective balance of patience and impatience in pursuing opportunities.

Self-Confidence Percentile

89

The Self-Confidence (SCN) score is an indicator of the level of confidence and self-assurance an individual brings to his or her work. The SCN score in the 89th percentile suggests this person is, in general, self-confident and self-assured.

Stress Tolerance Percentile

The Stress Tolerance scale measures the ways in which people respond to stress. The Stress Tolerance score of 34th percentile indicates this individual will generally be calm and even-tempered, though they may sometimes respond emotionally to events when under stressful conditions. People who score in the middle range for Stress Tolerance generally do not worry too much about how others perceive them, and are able to accept constructive criticism.
